When your child or adolescent is experiencing a serious mental health crisis, s/he is at serious risk of hurting her/himself, hurting others or is having severe, disorganized, or dangerous train of thought, you will need to have your child/adolescent screened for hospitalization. Taking the time in a non-crisis situation can help make a difficult situation less stressful.

Have you thought about your options and how you will plan for those options in advance? Do you have a plan that you have shared with friends, family, or emergency first responders?

This workshop is presented by parents with lived experience and designed to provide families with a tools and resources to help guide you through your child's mental health crisis.

When: Tuesday Dec. 28, 2021

Time: 6pm-8pm

Free to all parents, caregivers and family members.
